

Inclement Weather is Delaying Operations Upon All Fronts

Expected Resumption of Offensive To Clear Germans Out Of 2,000 Yards Of Hindenburg Line Still Held Up By Unfavorable Weather—Infantry Also Inactive Upon French and Italian Fronts.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, May 24.—Inclement weather is holding Field Marshal Haig's men to the trenches along the Arras front and the expected commencement of the offensive with the object of driving the Germans from the little sector of the Hindenburg line they hold west of Bullecourt, has not yet started. It is probable, however, that with the lifting of the clouds the big guns will start roaring again and the infantry be loosed against the Germans in an endeavor to complete the tactics which will place the entire British front in alignment for the next step on their program—the smashing of the Drocourt-Queant switch line and an advance toward Douai.

The infantry also was inactive Wednesday along the French front, where the Germans bombarded heavily the new positions captured by the French Tuesday night east of Chevreux and on the California and Vaulere Plateaux.

Likewise in the Isonzo sector of the Austro-Italian theatre, the Italian army apparently has given way almost entirely to the heavy duels of the greatest intensity. The Rome war office reports the Italians have re-captured after several days of heavy fighting positions the Austrians had wrested from them Monday night in the Trivigno Valley of the Trentino front.

British Official.
LONDON, May 23.—The British official communication issued this morning says:

"Nothing of special interest occurred during the day owing to the unfavorable weather conditions.

"There was less activity in the air yesterday and little fighting. One German airplane was driven down out of control."

French Official.
PARIS, May 23.—The official communication issued by the war office reads:

"On the Chemin-des-Dames no infantry action occurred during the day. The enemy bombarded the new positions which we occupy in the region of the Vaulere and California Plateaux."

"The number of prisoners taken in the operations of yesterday exceeds 100."

"In Champagne there was spirited artillery activity on the part of the enemy south of Meusevillers. The Germans finally delivered against Montigny an attack, which our fire broke down before it was able to reach the trenches."

German Official.
BERLIN, May 23, via London.—The German official communication issued this evening says there is nothing of importance to report.

Macedonian Front.
PARIS, May 23.—Tonight's war office communication said of the situation in Macedonia:

"Eastern Theatre, May 22.—The day was calm save on the Struma, where the artillery action was very active, and in the region of Krastali, where a reconnaissance was repulsed."

Canadians Again Bring Honor To Dominion by Gallant Attack

HEADQUARTERS OF THE CANADIAN CORPS IN FRANCE, May 23, London.—(C.A.P.)—An operation described as the "Best kind of limited offensive" against a position near Coulette strongly held by the enemy, and for his observation, has again brought honor to Canada.

The fighting lasted for several days. The Huns fought valiantly, using by instrument known in modern warfare, including "Flammenwerfer," or gas men consistently maintained their supremacy and forced the enemy to give ground.

Troops from a Quebec regiment which took part in the action attained objective assigned to them, inflicting casualties on the enemy in the ratio of four to one. The performance has elicited highly appreciative messages from the higher command.

On the Canadian front quiet prevails and the weather is fine.

BELGIANS ARE STILL HELD AS HUN SLAVES

Only Sick and Maimed Are Returned Despite Kaiser's Promise.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, May 23.—From official Belgian sources the Associated Press has been informed of the following:

"The Belgian deportees are still kept in Germany, notwithstanding the promises of Emperor William."

"Only about one-third the total number of deportees have been repatriated. These are the sick and maimed. The Belgian hospitals are full of them. Many have died. Most of them will never be able to work."

"Those who have been kept in Germany have been divided among small labor camps. They are subjected to a relentless pressure to force them to accept the work they hitherto refused."

"As a matter of fact, their fate has become more and more desperate. They are subjected to a relentless pressure to force them to accept the work they hitherto refused."

"Three months ago the German Emperor assured the Pope that all deportees would be sent back to their homes and that the married men would lead the van."

"The German authorities, however, while they have stopped taking any further advantage of the sick and maimed, still go on trying to reduce into slavery by every means the unhappy Belgians in order to get hold of labor material, the need for which reveals itself more and more pressing."

"As a consequence of this policy, Belgian fathers of families die every day, preferring martyrdom to submission in aid of their country's enemies."

IS NOT PARTY SLAVE SAYS FRED DUNCAN

Candidate For East Edmonton Again Promises To Support Good Legislation.

"I wish it understood that I am not a slave to the party, but as long as the Liberal party does what I think is right I will support it, and if the position is such that I cannot support it, I will not support it," said Fred Duncan, Liberal candidate for East Edmonton, when addressing a meeting in the McCreary school Wednesday night. "My judgment will not be biased because I am a Liberal member," continued the speaker.

"If the Sifton government is not returned to power I am afraid that the advanced legislation passed by them will be in great danger of not being properly enforced, and it might be done away with," said Mr. Duncan.

After quoting a newspaper clipping regarding wages paid to a certain girl by her local factory, and drawing the meeting's attention to James Ramsey's conduct in the board of trade regarding the factory act, Mr. Duncan said: "I think it is a pity that the name of God and humanity we need a factory act."

H. H. Parlee, K. C., president of the Edmonton Liberal club, delivered a splendid address, supporting the candidate and the government at large. He stated that women were invited to become members of the Liberal club. He pointed out that James Ramsey did not dare oppose the factory act, although he said, he had done so in the board of trade.

"I ask you to view the whole administration of the Sifton government broadly from end to end and see if there is any government in Canada that is better than this," he concluded.

"He is the human man," is the term A. R. McLennan used to describe the Liberal candidate for East Edmonton. He called for volunteers to go on Thursday morning through that electoral district and work for Mr. Duncan.

DOWN WITH CONSCRIPTION SHOUTS CROWD

Montreal Mass Meeting Voices Disapproval of Compulsory Service.

FRENCH CANADIANS ARE NOT SHEEP

Crowd Largely Composed of Young Men Eligible To Serve.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
MONTREAL, May 23.—"Down with conscription" was the sentiment which pervaded a gathering in Park Lafontaine tonight, estimated at between 15,000 and 20,000. The crowd was largely composed of men whose ages run from 15 to 30.

Mr. J. G. Gauthier, said it was the duty of all men to "protest against this damn conscription." "Further," he said, "let us show the government that the French-Canadians are not sheep." He considered Canada had done her whole duty when she "sent 400,000 of our fellow citizens in England."

The meeting was orderly.

GEO. P. SMITH IS NOMINATED FOR CAMROSE

Yields To Demands Of Constituents To Be Liberal Standard Bearer.

(Special to the Bulletin.)

CAMROSE, May 23.—George P. Smith, the sitting member for Camrose provincial constituency, was nominated by acclamation tonight at the most enthusiastic and liveliest Liberal convention ever held in the district. Mr. Smith is the Liberal nominee for the Dominion house and some time ago announced that he would not be in the field for a re-election to the legislature.

He was determined that he, and no other, should be their standard bearer at the forthcoming provincial elections. Petitions signed by electors in all parts of the constituency asking Mr. Smith to allow his name to go before the convention have been circulating in the district.

There are at least 1,100 signatures to the petitions.

Mr. Smith yielded to the pressure and accepted. It is probable that he would have been nominated anyway, refusal or no refusal. In his speech of acceptance he said that the responsibility would rest upon his supporters, and not upon himself.

There were 153 accredited delegates present from all parts of the constituency, together with many unaccredited delegates. Some of the delegates had been in the field for the Liberal nomination, but they were all in favor of Mr. Smith.

REMOVE TARIFF ON NECESSTIES

W. T. Henry to Continue as Mayor For the Remainder of Civic Term

By an unfortunate error in reporting the meeting in Oliver school, Mayor Henry was represented in yesterday's issue of the Bulletin as saying that if elected he "would not continue to be mayor." The error was in the insertion of the word "not." His statement was that if elected he would continue to be mayor for the remainder of the term. This was the intention that his election would deprive the city of his services at the city hall, and that in accepting candidature for the Legislature he in some way deserted the civic duties he undertook to discharge throughout the present year.

Mayor Henry Disposes of the "Overwhelming Liability" Cry At Big Meeting in Pantages

Shows That Indebtedness of Province Which Is a Charge Against The Taxes Is Only $16,000,000—Opposition Handled Without Gloves—Mrs. McClung Refuses To Support "Stupidity."

Practically the whole audience which attended the meeting at the Pantages Theatre last night remained to hear two notable campaign addresses made by Mayor Henry, candidate for the Legislature in West Edmonton, and Mrs. McClung, candidate for the Legislature in the riding of Edmonton and Calgary.

The mayor's speech was a masterpiece of political opinion were represented. It paid the speakers the compliment of an attentive hearing and the hearty applause given the telling points scored was evidence of the convincing nature of the facts and arguments presented. From a practical "vote getting" standpoint the meeting was an unquestionable success.

The mayor was in fine form and pitched at the opposition without gloves. He devoted considerable attention to the issue of the campaign and showed that the assertion that the financial condition of the province was bad and that the people were being crushed beneath an overwhelming load of bonded indebtedness were without foundation.

The Mayor's Speech
The mayor began by saying that he wanted to clear up a few misapprehensions respecting his personal position. He maintained that he had filled all his pledges which he had made previous to his election as mayor and reiterated the statement which he had made last night before the Oliver school that he intended to continue in the capacity of mayor until the expiration of his term. He said that he had consented to stand for re-election to the Legislature, but he had no intention of doing so.

He then proceeded to discuss the issue of the campaign and showed that the assertion that the financial condition of the province was bad and that the people were being crushed beneath an overwhelming load of bonded indebtedness were without foundation.

FREE TRADE IN STAPLE FOODS AND PRODUCTS

Hon. Frank Oliver Moves Amendment to Budget Proposals.

FARM IMPLEMENTS AND MACHINERY

But Government Members Are All Opposed To Action.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, May 23.—Hon. Frank Oliver's amendment to the budget resolution, of which he gave notice some time ago, was moved in the house of commons this afternoon and gave a new twist to the long-expected debate on the budget proposals.

Mr. Oliver's amendment calls for a number of additions to the free list apart from wheat and its products which are free at present, including farm implements and machinery, tractors, rough and partly dressed lumber, oils of various kinds, cement and fertilizers. It also urges reciprocal free trade with other countries in staple foods and food products (other than wheat and flour), substantial reductions in the general tariff on all articles excepting luxuries, and finally an increase in the British preference up to 50 per cent of the general tariff.

Who Got the Difference?
Hon. Frank Oliver said that farmers of the west last year received a maximum price of about $1.75 for wheat. This was a good price and the farmers were not complaining. This was the price secured for 70,000,000 bushels, but for a large part of the rest of the crop the price was $3 and now this $3 wheat fixed the cost of flour in the east. The farmers did not get $3 and he wanted to know who got the difference.

Mr. Oliver complained that an embargo was placed on the shipment of wheat east by the railway and that this was done in connivance with the railways in order that speculators could manipulate grain stored in the elevators.

Sir Thomas White asked if the embargo was not placed with the approval of the railway commission. Mr. Oliver said that it had been.

Mr. Oliver said that he had asked Sir Thomas "seriously suggest that the chairman and members of the railway commission were in a plot to manipulate prices."

Mr. Oliver said he was making no charges, they could distribute the responsibility as they pleased. What had happened was that some persons got seventy million dollars to which they were not entitled.

Continuing, Mr. Oliver said that the government was pursuing a fiscal policy detrimental to the best interests of the country and was leading to its financial ruin. It was time to give our fiscal policy another direction and lighten the burden on the people.

He blamed the government for not exercising more energy in its administration and moved, seconded by F. B. Carver, the following amendment:

"That in the opinion of this house it would be in the public interest if the customs tariff be so amended as to provide that:

"1. Wheat, wheat flour and all other products of wheat be placed upon the free list.

"2. That farm implements and machinery, farm tractors, mining, flour and saw mill machinery and rough and partly dressed lumber, including fuel, cement and fertilizers be added to the free list.

"3. That staple and food products (other than wheat and flour), domestic animals and foodstuffs be admitted into Canada free of duty when coming from, and being the product of, any country admitting like Canadian articles into such country free of duty.

"4. That substantial reductions be made in the general tariff on all articles imported into Canada, excepting luxuries.

"5. That the British preference be increased to 50 per cent of the general tariff."

British Preference
Mr. Oliver in closing said that wheat and its products should be on the free list irrespective of the attitude of any other country, on the principle of reciprocity.

Miss Sims, of Lettrbridge, the winning soloist sang "Thy Beaming Eyes" extremely well. PERSONALS, MEETINGS, CLUB ACTIVITIES, WEDDINGS AND SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Greene have as their guest Mr. Greene's mother, Mrs. L. G. Greene, of Winnipeg.

At the Riverdale school yesterday afternoon Prof. Ottewill of the University assisted in the Empire Day program by showing a number of lantern slides of war pictures which were highly appreciated.

All members of First Presbyterian church choir are requested to attend the concert tonight to sing with All Saints' choir in "Not only unto Him."

At the board meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday afternoon, the reports of the different convocations were read. The Travelers' Aid had done splendid work and met many trains on both the south and the north side. All branches reported much activity since the last meeting. Plans are already made for the big bazaar next December, and details almost completed for this elaborate affair.

Mrs. J. J. Duggan of the Catholic Women's League arranged the concert given at the Strathcona Military Hospital last night. The soldiers enjoyed the program very much. Those taking part were: The Misses Marquise Smith, Eloise Martin, Catherine Hart and Master Cecil Martin.

Mrs. A. G. Meyer, 61st street, Highlands, and her two daughters leave this morning for the East, where they will spend the summer.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by those who attended McDougall Epworth League Monday evening. The program was provided by the literary committee and Private Clarke, a returned soldier who went with the 5th university draft to the Princess Patricia's regiment was the speaker of the evening. A very interesting description was given of the varied experiences a soldier has from the time he enlists until he finds himself in the front line trenches, with shells whistling over his head, and at night with the sky lighted with star shells. Some interesting things in Belgium and France were described and added to the story of the war, in which some months before the memorable battle was fought and won by the Canadians. Private Clarke spoke of the effect the war is having on the lives of the men who were actively engaged and stated that one of the most popular songs with the men while on the march and in billets was "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and added that a great responsibility rested on those who remained at home to see that these men would not be disappointed on their return.

Miss Spurr contributed a piano solo and Miss Vera Allen, one of the young girls of the Sunday school, sang very sweetly, "Good Luck to the Boys of the Allies."

THE DAILY POEM

Consecrated
He who saw the lowly widow
In the treasury chest her alms,
Has not failed to see the shadow
Of the blindness on these fairs.

Not one sparrow ever falleth
To the ground without His care,
Wordless parables ever callest
Unto Him who uttered prayers.

When a life is consecrated
Through war's duty unto Him,
Angels chorus glad, clated,
Welcome! Solace, enter in.

And a dollar gladly given
To the man who's loved by Thee,
Will be heralded in Heaven:
"Ye have done it unto Me."

—Bedfordiensis.
Ottawa, May 6, 1917.

Famous Women

Margaret, Countess of Salisbury
The last of the royal line of Plantagenet was Margaret, Countess of Salisbury, and her end was a sad one indeed. She was the mother of the famous Cardinal Pole and was a woman of great learning and piety. She died, like so many others of royal blood in England, in the Tower of London, having been sentenced to be beheaded on May 24. This sentence was executed three days later. Margaret at the time was 70 years old.

Mrs. Nazimova, the famous actress, has just celebrated her 37th birthday. She was born in the Crimea, in the village of Yalta, on the Black Sea. She spent her early childhood in Geneva and at the age of 12 returned to Russia, and it was in her native village that she made her first appearance on the stage, appearing as a violinist. She is a most accomplished musician who played the violin and learned to play it long before she ever dreamed of gaining fame on the stage. The first of her footlights, however, soon came to her and at the age of 17 she joined a Russian stock company and in 1903 she made her first appearance at the Russian capital, there performed in London, and appeared for the first time in America in 1905.

Sidelights on the War

Prince Louis of Battenberg
One of the most tragic figures of the war is Prince Louis of Battenberg, favorite of Queen Victoria, loved and admired by all who knew him. He was born in 1854, the son of the fleet of England when the storm broke over Europe. This is just the tragic part of his story. He was credited with having brought the fleet to a high state of efficiency, but that didn't help him when England went to war. Prince Louis was born in Gravel, an enemy nation he was in as soon as England entered the conflict and resigned his high office. He is supposed to have gone to Russia. He may be there still. His two sons, born in England, are serving with the British fleet. Prince Louis is the son of the late Prince Alexander of Hesse, in 1884 he married his cousin, Princess Victoria of Hesse, a favorite granddaughter of the late Queen Victoria. In early life Prince Louis became a naturalized British subject and in 1887 entered the royal navy as a cadet. His ability won for him rapid promotion in the service. In 1902 he became director of naval intelligence and later was made aide-de-camp to King Edward. He reached the highest rank in the British naval service only a few years before the war broke out when he was made first sea lord.

RT. REV. DR. BIDWELL BISHOP OF ONTARIO
KINGSTON, May 23.—In St. George's Cathedral this evening Rt. Rev. Dr. E. J. Bidwell, who has been coadjutor bishop of Ontario for the past four years today was enthroned as bishop of Ontario, in succession to the late Bishop Mills.

"In his charge to the synod this afternoon Bishop Bidwell declared the day for exhortation in regard to enlistments had passed, and that what is needed is authoritative action."

ROYAL YEAST

Has been Canada's favorite yeast for over a quarter of a century. Bread baked with Royal Yeast will keep fresh and moist longer than that made with any other, so that a full week's supply can easily be made at one baking, and the last loaf will be just as good as the first.

Women of West Edmonton C're Rousing Reception to Mayor Henry, Liberal Candidate

Edmonton women showed their enthusiasm for the cause and gave a rousing reception to the Liberal candidate for mayor, Henry, at a meeting held at the Liberal committee rooms on 116th street on Wednesday afternoon.

The attendance was excellent, and the interest unflagging, although, as Mayor Henry remarked, he dealt with matters from a business standpoint, and in this he believed that he had their approval, because they were there to get the business straight.

Will Still Be Mayor
In the first place Mayor Henry referred to a statement that had appeared in the opposition press and also to a mis-quotation that had been given in the morning paper with reference to his continuing in the office of mayor if elected.

"I wish to say," went on the mayor, "that I do not intend to resign my duties as mayor either now or after I am elected, but that I intend to continue to the end of my term. I will discharge those duties as I have done hitherto, and in the way which I believe to be in the best interests of the citizens, and in the way I believe that they are satisfied with them."

Mayor Henry then proceeded to kill an insinuation of the opposition, remarking that they were endeavoring to keep personal columns out of the campaign, but already a rumor was being circulated calculated to encourage the prestige of the Liberal candidate. "A lady had asked him if it was true that they were naturalizing aliens and enemies, Germans and others, in the city," he said.

Question of Policy
Mayor Henry then said that the only difference between himself and the opposition candidate was the policy which they stood for. On the Liberal side there were acts which stood out in bold relief to the Conservative lack of policy. One was the Farm Loan act to develop the farming industry of the country, also the Co-operative Credit act, by which men who had nothing could club together and get money to work their farms, and this was the first time that any assistance had been given to men of this class. Then there was the Live Stock act, by which farmers could band together and buy stock because it was so necessary that there should be more stock in the province.

"You may ask," said the speaker, "what has been done for the city? The answer is this—in order to build up a prosperous urban centre, you have had a prosperous agricultural community, and that is what is being made by the Liberal government."

How Women Benefit
To show how women had received benefit, Mayor Henry pointed out the Dower act, which protected their property rights and the Women's Franchise act. He remarked that the opposition was trying to make capital out of this, but the Conservative party was not in favor of women's suffrage because they had refused in the Dominion house to give the federal vote to the women, even in the provinces where the women's suffrage was granted. The speaker alluded to the extent of extension of railroads under the Sifton administration, and said that he remembered the time when farmers felt and wanted to vote he should become naturalized.

Factory Act
Mr. Jefferson dealt briefly with the work of the Liberal government, but said that if the Sifton administration had done nothing else, they deserved support from all women for having introduced the factory act. He emphasized this statement from his experience as a prosecutor at the police court for three years, because the act, by establishing a minimum wage for female workers in factories, was going to save young girls, from sinking into a life of shame, through being underpaid, by being able to support themselves. Mr. Jefferson pointed out that one of the opponents of the act was a man who was now seeking to be elected for one of the city constituencies.

Mrs. McClung Speaks
"I wish I was always so sure of being right in everything that I do as I am in endorsing the candidature of Mayor Henry," said Mrs. Nellie McClung, who briefly addressed the meeting. The speaker said she wanted to see every woman become a real live factor in the campaign. She was not very strong on the "good wish" business, but wanted to see some real work done. In West Edmonton they had a clear-cut campaign. Both candidates were men of absolute integrity but one man was more progressive than the other. Mr. Swift had not been in favor of woman suffrage, and women who had the larger vision should support Mayor Henry.

Mrs. Wallace also brought the women to action, and said that there was a great army of women who did not know what to do with the vote. With a good leader they would work and win.

Mrs. L. H. Knell, who presided over the meeting, speaking from personal knowledge of Mayor Henry's work in connection with city institutions, said that they could support him because he was a man of exceptional ability in a range of women's affairs, and his honesty and integrity and great charity for the poor and unfortunate.

MANY GIRLS ARE COMING WEST TO AID IN FARM WORK
Rights That Women Have Obtained in Alberta Attracting Many From East

Now that Alberta has become famous, not only for its position as a great producer of farm crops, but for its recognition of the rights of women, it would appear that the attention of the gentler sex is to be attracted hither from the older portions of the Dominion where advantages are not so pronounced. The labor bureau of the provincial department of agriculture has already been notified with this growing interest and is now in touch with no less than 150 girls from western Ontario who are desirous of coming to Alberta to help with the farm work.

These girls are willing to help farmers either as domestics or in field work, so long as they can serve the country in the huge task of production. Since the west has been so depleted of men the assistance of these Ontario girls should be appreciated in the rural districts. Heretofore not many working girls have been willing to go on farms and domestic assistance in particular has been difficult for the farm women to obtain. The provincial labor bureau advises farmers that they should apply at once if advantage is to be had of this Ontario offer.

Today's Anniversaries
A most interesting figure, William Read, died on this day in 1715. He was originally a cobbler, but later became a mountebank and practiced medicine. He gained such influence that Queen Anne and George I. honored him with the care of their eyes. He could neither read nor write, but such was the success of his practice that he rode "in his own chariot and dispensed good punch from golden bowls."

Gen. Jackson, on May 24, 1818, captured Pensacola, Fla. On this day in the year 1844 the first message was sent by telegraph. In 1883 the great Brooklyn bridge was opened, at the time the engineering marvel of the world. It was also on this day in 1898 that the battleship Oregon completed her remarkable trip around Cape Horn, making 13,900 miles in seventy-three days.

GASOLINE ADVANCES TWO CENTS PER GALLON
New York, May 23.—The Standard Oil Co. of New York today announced an advance of 2c a gallon in the price of gasoline.

Eligibility to Vote
To be eligible to vote they must have resided in the province for one year and in West Edmonton three months. Every woman and girl over 21 years of age, who was a British subject, could vote, and no one had the right to stop them. The husband's domicile governed that of the wife, and if they were of American birth and the husband became a Canadian citizen, the wife became a Canadian citizen whether she liked it or not. Also a girl who lived with her father, was the same as the father governed the domicile of the household. A boy who was over 21 made his own domicile, and if he was not a British subject, he was not eligible to vote.

Today's Inquiries
1. Which contains a greater number of calories, oatmeal or rice?
2. How can fat be tested without a thermometer to determine whether it is of the proper heat for cooking doughnuts, fritters, etc.?
3. What is the approximate length of time for broiling spring chicken?

Answers to Yesterday's Inquiries
1. Parsley, mint, watercress or celery tops can be used to garnish meats or various other dishes.
2. The tough ends of asparagus can be boiled, then pressed through a sieve and used in making soup.
3. In mixing a cake the butter and sugar can be made in cream easily, the bowl is first slightly warmed with hot water.

Starting a Mint Bed.
To the Editor of Woman's Page.
Dear Madam:—A bed of mint is a useful thing to have in one's garden. The best way to start such a bed is from ready-grown plants, which multiply rapidly when sown in a shallow open field. It grows especially near a stream, although seeds may give satisfactory results. If planted at this season the plants will be ready to be cut toward the close of the summer. The mint grows best in a fairly damp place. If your bed is not especially damp see that it is watered frequently if you want large, juicy leaves.

There is nothing nicer than a mint sherbet for a dainty warm weather dessert. Take the leaves from fifteen or twenty stalks of mint and pour over them two cups of boiling water. Cover this in a saucepan and let it simmer for an hour, then strain the liquid to cool. Add two-thirds of a cup of grape juice and a quarter of a cup of lemon juice and freeze. When serving it is nice to garnish each portion with a fresh mint leaf.

TINIA W.
Many thanks, Miss W., for your very interesting letter.

Improved Indirect Lighting System.
To the Editor of Woman's Page.
Dear Madam:—Being anxious to have indirect lights, yet not feeling that I could afford to have them installed, I hit upon the following plan: I changed the lamp in my "clubhouse" for a sixty candlepower Tungsten and turned over the opaque metal shade so that the light pointed toward the ceiling. Then by setting the apparatus on a bookcase the light stood one foot higher than my head; the light striking the white ceiling is thus reflected softly in the room.

Savory Vegetable Dish.
To the Editor of Woman's Page.
Dear Madam:—The following dish is good: Wash thoroughly without separating one head of lettuce, then put it on to cook in a double boiler with milk sufficient to nearly cover it. Cook gently until tender, then add about one-half cupful of celery which has been boiled, also boiled peas; season with salt, pepper, a pinch of mustard and thicken with butter and flour. Serve with slices of lemon and pieces of hard boiled egg.

Rev. George Alton Gananogue, Ont., writes: "I had been suffering from bilious attacks on Sabbath and was very weak, had headaches, and my stomach was so bad that I could hardly eat anything without being troubled by it. I had tried many cures, herbs, pills and salts, and was under the doctor's care for some time, but instead of getting better I seemed to get weaker. I was unable to fulfill my appointments on Sabbath and had to secure help. I used to take daisy pills and could not walk across the floor straight. I had almost given up all hope, and my wife said that if I did not get better we would have to quit the work of the ministry. However, in looking over the 'British Whig,' the well-known Kingston paper, I saw Dr. Chase's advertisements in it, and read how Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills had helped others who were troubled as I was. I resolved to give these Pills a trial, and I must say that in a short time, I obtained relief. I continued taking them for some time, and now I am able to resume my work again. From this benefit I have obtained from these pills, I would recommend them to all who suffer as I did."

Rev. C. Cunningham, 124 First Avenue, Toronto: "This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Rev. George Alton Gananogue, and believe his statement with reference to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to be true and correct."

Gananogue, Ont., May 24.—The many friends of Rev. George Alton are pleased to learn of his recovery and a long period of health from biliousness, stomach troubles and severe headaches.

Mr. Alton had become very much discouraged, and his inability to oblige the ministry, when fortunately he read about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and began their use. He tells the particulars of his case in this interesting letter:

JOAN THE WOMAN SETS MARK FOR FILM PLAYS

The question of whether or not the public wants to get high or low class motion picture films seems to have been pretty definitely decided by the reception the New York public has given "Joan the Woman," the wonderful picture in which Jesse L. Lasky is presenting Geraldine Farrar at the Forty-fourth street theatre.

Prior to the production of this picture many of the wisecracks in the film business said that the picture might prove to be over the heads of the public and that a picture on a lower scale would be surer of success.

However, after day, many of the questions that had been asked began to be answered by the results at the theatre box office. It did not take long for the young folks of the city to realize that love was just as wonderful back in the days of Joan of Arc as it is today, and although most of us remember Joan merely as a woman in steel armor, the makers of this picture read her career enough to find that she had the same kind of heart that beats in every young girl's bosom today, and that although she sacrificed this love for greater love of her country, there was a motion picture story as has ever been told.

Then too, the wonderful battle scenes in the picture proved to be just as spectacular as anything that has ever been done on the screen, and a whole lot more real than most picture scenes.

Added to this was the pagentry that pleased every eye, carried out as it proved to be to the last detail. One has but to study the pagentry of the picture to have a perfectly clear idea of how the peoples of those days lived, loved, fought and died.

And, in addition to this, "Joan the Woman" proved to be one of the best history teachers that New York ever saw, with the result that those who were not interested by any of the other many angles took a deep interest in the historical side of the picture with the result that it is now regarded as one of the most assured motion picture successes that has ever been turned out.

The rest of the country has been hearing so much about this wonderful picture that it is being anxiously waited for in every state of the union and when the last dollar to be made by the producers is counted up, the result is expected to prove overwhelmingly that the motion picture public is not looking for the tawdry and worthless, but wants to get the finest there is.

DISTINGUISHED ACTRESS COMING TO PANTAGES
The last three acts on this week's program are as good as any three vaudeville acts that have been presented in this city. These include "Woman Proposes" with a company of eight people, the Cabaret Trio, and "Oh, Please, Mr. Detective," a swift and colorful musical act from the George Choo studios. Two performances, 3 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. will be given at Pantages on May 27.

The celebrated dramatic actress, Miss Lella Shaw, assisted by her company of players, will present "A Truthful Lie," a tense bit of drama telling an original and fascinating story, at the Pantages next week. Miss Shaw appears in the role of the actress-wife of a lawyer who ap-pals to the governor for a pardon for a client of his accused of murder, and to be hanged in the morning. The governor contends, as the charge is the murder of a woman, that no man kills a woman to save his honor and his family's good name, that it is always the other way about. The lawyer and his actress-wife put up a job on the governor, placing him in the same position as the one accused, and succeed in securing the pardon sought for Miss Shaw's beauty.

PHOTOPLAYS
Publicity men tell of current attractions on the screen in Local Picture Houses.

MONARCH—Two players whose work stands out in "The Law of Compensation," now being exhibited at the Monarch theatre, are Frederick Emmetson and Chester Barrett, neither of whom is a stranger to the best class of theatre-goers. Mr. Emmetson, well known as a player and producer of the Monarch, makes his screen debut in "The Law of Compensation." He has for many years been a prominent figure in Broadway theatricals. He played the part of the district attorney in "God's Witness," and secured a personal hit in the Coburn and Harris production, "The Murderer." He appeared with Miss Elsie Ferguson in "Margaret Schiller," and was a member of the notable cast of the great Shakespearean performance of "The Tempest." He has not yet decided whether or not to desert the stage permanently, but he is an excellent work he does in "The Law of Compensation" may prove the deciding factor.

EMMETSON, one of the most popular juvenile men on stage and screen, is also seen in "The Law of Compensation." Mr. Emmetson had important roles in various Clara Kimball Young features, such as "Tillie" and "The Heart of the Blue Ridge," and in "Marrying Money," "The Pick of the Satchel," and "La Vie en Rose." He is a unique type among juveniles, combining the romantic element of youth with a vigor that is not usually expected of, or found in, the juvenile actor.

EMMETSON—The Monarch made film, "None Faultless," which is being shown all week at the Empire theatre, is attracting great crowds and causing a deal of comment. Today for the last time is seen the latest Trixie release, "The Weather Sex," directed by the Knickerbocker theatre in New York. This drama deals with a big modern question, "La Vie en Rose," place in the home. Dorothy Dalton has the most prominent role, that of a successful woman, who marries a man, who is a successful lawyer of the sterner sex, and is forced to abandon her law practice after marriage. She is a woman who not only allows her to help him, until her keenness and woman's intuition about his own son, succeed in saving him from a disastrous and criminal evidence. Thus "The Weather Sex" is, in its way, perhaps one of the greatest women's plays that has ever been filmed for the screen. "La Vie en Rose" is like it—those who saw it last night did not think it was a good deal to men. It has a big message for both sexes. The part of the son is played by Charles Ray, that popular juvenile of the Triangle studios whose work on the screen has won him thousands of admirers in Edmonton. He will be remembered here as a strong character in "Peggy," with Billy Burke in the leading role.

EMMETSON—For the last time Mme. Petrova will be seen at the Majesty theatre to-day in the "Black Butterfly," which is a thrilling drama of love, and a love sacrifice but which all ends happily, the reunion taking place after the battle of the "Mare." Mme. Petrova, the famous emotional actress, chose this photoplay herself and never has she had a more splendid opportunity to display her wonderful dramatic talent and her gorgeous gowns. Many remarkable scenes are produced, one being a reproduction of a Paris den of the Apaches where Marie, the daughter of the Black Butterfly (Mme. Petrova) is taken. Her Apache dancing is presented in the famous Caravan, where the Apaches drink their wine, dine and dance.

EMMETSON—A remarkable scene is the famous battle of the Mare where Von Kluck's invading army was turned back and when Paris was saved. Here the plot is woven into a beautiful scene where the Black Butterfly offers her own blood to save the colonel and starts back with horror to find it is the man who has really loved her. However for "France" she makes her sacrifice and then learns that her patient, who she really loved has been searching the world over for her, so all ends well. Another interesting feature is that Mme. Petrova plays the double role of mother and daughter, slowly crosses the room and standing with her arm resting on the table, she talks to herself as mother to daughter.

Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

Copyright, 1917, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Uncle Wiggily," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, "the muskrat gentleman, your soldier tent, in which you stay on guard since this mosquito war started, looks very unattractive."

"Unattractive? What do you mean?" the muskrat lady wanted to know. "Does it leak?"

"No, I don't mean the rain comes in," said Nurse Jane, "but it looks bare and unattractive. You should have a picture or two on the walls, a bit of color here and there, a flower—or—something."

"I'll tell you what I'll do," went on Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I'm going down to the ten-and-eleven-cent store, and I'll send you up something with which to decorate your tent."

"What will it be?" asked Uncle Wiggily, cautiously like and crafty.

"I don't yet know," answered Nurse Jane. "I'll have to look about and see what they have."

"Anything'll suit me," said Uncle Wiggily unassumingly, indifferent and careless like, but at the same time appreciative. "A tiger skin rug or a cut glass bowl full of artificial roses will ornament my tent all right. We soldiers are not fussy."

"I know that," said the muskrat lady, and away she hopped down to the ten-and-eleven-cent store to get something with which to ornament Uncle Wiggily's tent. Just as your teacher puts some pretty pictures on the blackboard so the room will look more like home.

Uncle Wiggily stayed on guard, marching up and down in front of his tent, now and then hopping down in the trench, or ditch, he had dug so the mosquito enemy could not throw stones at him. Uncle Wiggily's rheumatism hurt him hardly at all now, but that he never often have to use his cane, which he had bought at the muskrat lady's, was just as your teacher puts some pretty pictures on the blackboard so the room will look more like home.

All of a sudden, as the muskrat lady came back, she saw an automobile that Nurse Jane had named him out of a bean pole—I mean cornstalk.

And sixteen-cent store, and after that Uncle Wiggily kept on marching up and down in front of his tent to be on guard against the mosquito enemy.

Inside the tent was the tank of heat very hot, and they steam about talking in whispers to themselves for fear never talk out loud, or at least very seldom.

And then, the day being warm, Uncle Wiggily sat down by the shade of the tent to rest, thinking no mosquitoes would come to bother him. But, all of a sudden he fell fast, fast asleep.

And while he slept some mosquitoes, flying high in the air above the swamp, where they lived in a hollow log fort, saw the muskrat gentleman.

"Ha! This is the time we can catch him!" they said. "We'll fly down, hide in his tent and as soon as he goes to sleep a little more soundly we'll grab him and fly away with him. Ah, ha!" and they played soft, shivery music on their bills.

Softly the mosquitoes flew down and into the tent of the brave, but sleeping muskrat gentleman they went to hide. But the first mosquito going in, stumbled over the tank of ornamental golden and fell down.

"Ouch!" cried the mosquito, for he bumped his nose. Then the second mosquito bumped into the first, and the third mosquito bumped into the second, and the fourth mosquito bumped into the third, and the fifth mosquito—

Well, you know how it was—just like the seventeen-and-eighteen-cent store business—more all the while, until the mosquitoes came to steal Uncle Wiggily fell down one over the other and the whole pile of them stumbled and toppled over into the golden tank.

And the golden tank, being very hungry, and especially fond of mosquitoes, ate up every one of the bad, biting bugs, until there wasn't a one left of that particular army to bother the muskrat gentleman.

"Oh!" It certainly is a good thing Nurse Jane sent me that tank of golden fish," said the muskrat when he awoke and saw what had happened. So everybody was satisfied except the mosquitoes. And if the muskrat cat doesn't try to make a hammock swing on the dog's tail, and fall off in the paddy bed, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily up a tree.

THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1917

Only in name and incidentally Victoria Day now observed as the anniversary of the birth of the late and much-beloved Queen. Its significance has broadened by a natural association of ideas. It stands now upon the calendar as the annual occasion upon which we proclaim the fact and the meaning of the British Empire, an institution which came to conscious existence during the century that has gone and with the physical and political development of which the name of Victoria must be ever associated.

If it was fitting that in the days of peace we should set aside this day in the year in which to celebrate and propagate a wholesome sentiment of appreciation for the vastness of the Empire that had been built up by the genius of our race, and for the principles which that Empire stood in the world, it is surely in keeping that also mark the anniversary at a time when the peoples of our far-flung dominions are pouring at their blood like water, and money without measure, that the empire may not be destroyed and that those principles may not cease to hold sway in the world.

This war has been the supreme justification of the British Empire, of its creation, and of the aims we made for it as standing for human liberty and justice. It is for the British Empire civilization would be now in ruins, and barbarized paganism would die to the fate of men and women every part of the globe. Not without reason is it that the nations of the world chant their hymn of hate. In the British people, and their devotion to the use of human liberty, they recognize the foe that gives strength and courage to all others and makes vain the wild ambition of "world-power."

The British Empire is saving the peoples of the world from slavery day, every day. Take the British troops from the western front and sweep the British fleets from the seas and the hope of freedom would go with them. With Russia in chaos, the heroic but exhausted army of France could not withstand the terrific onslaught that would be hurled against it; the will of the Kaiser would be to nine-tenths of mankind. If vice to humanity is a just cause of gratitude and pride, Britishers could be grateful and proud as they have never before, for, under God, they have been permitted to save the world from servitude.

If Mr. Michener and his friends intend to apply to the Dominion government to have citizenship rights withdrawn from certain classes of people whom they suspect of not being loyal, what do they propose shall be done with Mr. Blondin and his associates, who now admit that voluntary enlistment was broken down by their refusal to put a recruiting campaign in that province under direction of General Lessard and other men who had carried it to success?

Current Comment

The United States Berlin

Springfield Republican: Somebody in Berlin, N. J., is moving to have the name of the town changed because it happens to be the same as that of the capital of the German Empire.

It is not to be expected that that kind of foolishness will make headway in this country. It would be stoutly resisted in the Berlin of Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Hampshire. Hysteria is not to be encouraged as a war asset.

Famine Through Robbery

From Toronto Star.

With bread at twelve cents for a loaf of one and one-half pounds, the number of hungry mouths which must be fed by the government to act on public opinion in regard to this and other increases is reaching a dangerous point. People will not be put off with the excuse that the war is responsible for the spectacular rise in food. They believe they are being robbed, and that somebody ought to be in the breach.

It is the cause how is it that a four-pound loaf is sold in England for twenty-four cents, the same as three pounds of bread in Canada? England does not grow enough wheat to feed its own people, and imports are seriously diminished by the submarines. Yet there, where we might expect something like famine prices, bread is only three-fourths the price that it is in the "granary of the empire."

It is not necessary, but bare-faced robbery, that the government ought to stop by the most drastic measures.

The Cost-of-Living Burlesque

From the Montreal Herald and Telegraph.

From the Montreal Herald and Telegraph. In parliament the other evening that no visible results whatever had attended the "efforts" of the minister of labour to show the government's right to show results. He has none to show. The government must now rowing down the curtain on this burlesque. It is becoming a mockery.

Nero fiddled while Rome burned, but free-born Canadians are in no mood to watch a minister fiddling while the people are starved in the midst of plenty.

Rogers Does Not Measure Up

From the Ottawa Citizen.

Mr. Rogers introduced his political mentality to Ottawa again by expressing the hope that Canada would not have to follow the example of Great Britain and the United States in the matter of compulsory service. A year ago the same political poker player expressed the opinion that it was "too late" to introduce national service in the millions industry. Canada has surely had enough of such negative "leadership." The people are ready for straight-forward leadership by a man of character, and Mr. Rogers does not measure up to Canada's requirements in war time.

Not Satisfactory

From the Montreal Star.

The trouble that has arisen over the soldiers' vote in the recent British Columbia prohibition contest simply goes to show that the government is not likely to be a satisfactory operation for anybody concerned.

Bully Round the Hoe, Boys!

From the Montreal Star.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: We'll rally round the hoe, boys, and join the ranks of toil, shouting the cry of "Feed 'em!" We'll train the crops to grow, boys, as fillers of the soil, shouting the battle cry of "Feed 'em!"

Where there is work to do, boys, we'll rather shout the battle cry of "Feed 'em!" To duty we'll be true, boys, and till the vacant lot, shouting the battle cry of "Feed 'em!" Nature, kind mother, will aid in our need. Down with the hoe, un with the weed. So we'll rally round the hoe, boys, and train the crops to grow, shouting the battle cry of "Feed 'em!"

A Tory Sneer at Women

From the Lethbridge Herald.

The petulant vote—that's the answer some Tory journeymen are throwing at the women of the province who will on June 7 cast their first vote. We're sure the ladies consider it highly complimentary.

More La Follette Folly

From New York Herald.

Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, having been choked into silence by the two-day speech he was not permitted to deliver, Representative La Follette, of Washington, breaks into public gaze the first time by suggesting that Great Britain sell Canada to the United States for $10,000,000,000.

Isn't it just marvelous how that little group of serious La Follettes is afflicted with the open mouth?—if you get what me mean.

At Parting of Ways

From Saskatchewan Phoenix.

The people of Canada are willing and ready for conscription, but such a law can only be trusted to a truly national government. Either the Eorden Cabinet will have to be reconstructed or there will have to be a Dominion election by which we can get a national and representative government. We have come to the parting of the ways. We must have men to maintain the Canadian Army at the front. The volunteers system will not produce them. Then let us have conscription, but let us at the same time get a government that will have behind it the confidence of the people. It is time to put an end to the weak-backed combination at Ottawa.

Liberty an Edged Tool

From the Toronto Telegram.

A debating society cannot make war. Liberty is an edged tool. A people only become fit for freedom by playing with the edged tools of freedom. The playtime lasts for centuries.

Russia is the home of 182,000,000 people. The Russians speak approximately 16 dialects. The population of Russia includes 150,000,000 peasants. These peasants were drafted into the army against their will. Freedom means nothing to the Russian soldiers, unless freedom means the opportunity to get quit of soldiering and go home.

Russia's millions of unlettered peasants are called without preliminary training to work out their national salvation with the tools of liberty. The Russians cannot acquire in weeks or months the reasonable skill in the use of these tools. Happier peoples have worked with these tools for decades and centuries, and are still far from perfect in all the arts and sciences of democratic government.

Russia was corrupted to death by pro-German aristocrats. Russia is now being talked to death by pro-German Socialists. The Russian soldiers do not seem to want anything but to get home. A German movement against Russia would solidify the people in resistance to a foreign invader. Germany is following a policy of passive resistance, and awaits the disintegration of the Russian forces.

KAISER'S REGIME IS THREATENED

This is Story That Recalled Cuban Minister Brings From Berlin

Geneva, via Paris, May 23.—Things are going badly in Germany and the imperial regime is threatened, according to Dr. Aristides Aguero, recalled Cuban minister to Berlin, who arrived here on his way to France. Dr. Aguero said: "I bring good news. I have been fourteen years in Berlin and you can easily realize that I have been able to thoroughly study the character of our enemies. Things are going badly on the other side of the Rhine. The facade of the imperial edifice seems solid enough from abroad, but in reality there are cracks in it."

Dr. Aguero declared that there was no prospect of immediate improvement in the food situation in Germany. He said that no help could be expected from the occupied parts of Roumania as the lack of man-power made a cultivation of the fields impossible.

JUVENILE CRIME IS INCREASING IN EDMONTON CITY

Children's Aid Society Asks Assistance For Probation Officer and Motor Car to Enable Him to Reach Outskirts

J. T. J. Collison appeared at the city council Tuesday night on behalf of the Children's Aid Society and asked if the board would consider the question of appointing an assistant to the Probation Officer Mr. Magee and also to provide him with a motor car to carry out the work. The matter was referred to the finance committee for report. Mr. Collison said that owing to the increase of juvenile crime in the city due to so many fathers being away from the city, the work of the Children's Aid Society has increased so that Mr. Magee could no longer cope with the work of carrying out investigations and also his duties as probation officer. Also as much of it was in the outlying parts of the city some means of conveyance were necessary to economize time and to assist in bringing children into the city.

Street Railway Claims
Council passed an additional appropriation of $10,000 to meet claims against the street railway. The 1917 estimate included an appropriation of $5,000 for this purpose, but already payments have amounted to $13,622.62, two claims alone, those of Dr. Morgan and Mrs. Lawrence amounting to nearly $12,000.

Want Further Report
The construction of the Rice Street Market building again came under discussion as the Zenith Construction Company have applied for the payment of the balance of the contract price withheld in order that council might ascertain the condition of the building after the frost had given out. Council decided that the money should not be paid until they had been supplied with further reports from the commissioners and the building inspector as to the condition of the building in comparison with specifications.

Ask More Wages
Applications from employees of the telephone, electric light and power and street railway departments for increased wages were held over until a report had been received upon the matter of standardization of salaries and positions in the city service.

Under the terms of the inquiry, Mr. MacDonald asked for a report on the work that had been done so far by the Hydro-Electric Power Company, and also for an estimate of the expenditure in connection with the work.

BIG COMMITTEE IS TO DO PURCHASING IN U.S. FOR ALLIES

Washington, May 23.—Plans for an allied purchasing board are being drawn to include purchases for the American army and navy estimated at approximately $3,500,000,000 for the first year of the war. The board, as tentatively outlined, would place a purchasing power of approximately $10,000,000,000 in the hands of a single committee.

HARD TO GET QUARTERS
Washington, May 23.—Fear that the first draft increment of half a million men for the army will not be in training quarters before October, is expressed as a result of the trouble about obtaining quarters for men. Canvas cannot be obtained for tents, so wooden sheds are to be built. The delay is now with regard to these.

"IRON HAND" IS EMPLOYED
Petrograd, via London, May 23.—"Iron Hand" threatened by M. Keren-sky, the war minister for restoring discipline in the army, was first employed last night with success when soldiers surrounded a large house where thirty armed men had secreted themselves. Previously the temporary government had never dared arrest deserters and pessimists had predicted a sanguinary collision when the initial attempt was made. But the 30 men surrendered lamely.

RIDGELOUGH P.O. SAVED
Four horses and plow was able to save the store and post office from destruction by Mrs. Humphreys being otherwise unaided. In the absence of Mr. Humphreys, who had gone to town.—Chauvin Chronicle.

TEXAS WHEAT CUT

MINIMUM AGE FOR COMPULSION IS FIXED AT 20 YEARS

Ottawa, May 23.—An official memorandum issued by the government today states that the lowest age for compulsion will be twenty years. It says in part: "The United States bill recently passed fixes the minimum age in that country at 21 years. After full consideration of all the circumstances, and principally of the views of those actually in charge of our troops overseas, the government has come to the conclusion that in putting in practice the principle of compulsion the better course is to fix the age of 20 years as the lowest which compulsion service shall be applied."
